PREFACE

This report is one in a series on Soviet Ground Force and logistic installations being prepared for a DIA/CIA Panel. The series is being coordinated, published and disseminated by NPIC. The photographic analysis is being performed by the NPIC Photographic Analysis Group, the CIA Photographic Intelligence Division (NPIC), and the Production Center 1P1c (DIA). The photographic analysis for this particular report was performed by the NPIC Photographic Analysis Group.

In the interest of uniformity, the titles and letter designators for the facilities observed at these installations are identical with those appearing in the project requirement. When a specific facility is not observed both its title and letter designator are omitted in the report.

Titles and letter designators for the various facilities are as follows: (A) railroad service, (B) road service, (C) landing strips, (D) administrative and troop housing areas, (E) storage areas, (F) ammunition storage areas, (G) POL storage areas, (H) other buildings and facilities, (J) equipment storage/maintenance areas, (K) athletic fields, (L) small arms firing ranges, (M) driver training areas, (N) tank/assault gun firing ranges, (P) flat trajectory firing ranges, (Q) artillery emplacements (batteries), (R) infantry or combined arms field training area or courses, (S) special training facilities, (T) unidentified facilities or tracking activity.

SUMMARY

Polotsk Army Barracks (Figure 1) is located one kilometer (km) north of Polotsk (55-29N 028-48E). A former rail line 0.5 km west of the installation has been dismantled and the rail bed is now used as a road. All-weather secondary roads provide access to Polotsk. Direct secondary roads connect this area with Polotsk Army Barracks and Maneuver Area (AL-3), one km north.

This installation covers approximately 410 acres and contains two administrative buildings, four barracks, eight large storage buildings, 20 support buildings, one secured ammunition storage building, and two small arms firing ranges (Figures 2 and 3).

The area is covered by [REDACTED] TALENT photography and [REDACTED] KEYHOLE missions [REDACTED]

[REDACTED] Comparative analysis reveals a consistent level of light activity [REDACTED]

[REDACTED] Significant changes observed are the removal of two large storage buildings and the addition of two support buildings.

DESCRIPTION OF INSTALLATION

Railroad Service

A rail line 0.5 km west of the installation has been dismantled, and the rail bed is now used as a road.

Road Service

All-weather secondary roads provide access to the primary highway in Polotsk.

Administrative and Troop Housing Area

Area D (Figure 3) has one administrative building, two U-shaped multistory barracks, one multistory barracks, and 12 support buildings. Two small support buildings have been added [REDACTED]

General Storage Area

Area E has eight large storage buildings, one multistory barracks, one administrative building, and five support buildings. Two large storage buildings have been removed [REDACTED]

Ammunition Storage Area

Area F has one 150- by 50-foot ammunition storage building located in a small secured area.

Equipment Storage/Maintenance Area

Area J has three 150- by 50-foot vehicle sheds, two 140- by 50-foot vehicle sheds, and three support buildings. Scarring and snow plowing indicate the area is occupied.

Small Arms Firing Ranges

Area L has one 750- by 50-foot and one 300- by 100-foot small arms firing range. Little or no activity is observed at these ranges.
